

Colonial Capitol, Williamsburg, Virginia

On this spot was adopted in 1776 Virginia's Declaration of Rights, which later became the basis of the Federal Bill of Rights. Washington, Patrick Henry and other patriots were members of legislatures which met here, while Williamsburg was capital of Virginia. Open daily.

Dear Joshua, We landed a few minutes before Friday noon but it was impossible to phone you, the lines being down. We shall spend the weekend sight seeing and be in New York on Tuesday. We plan to be in Madison on the 10th or 11th and will wire or phone you from New York as soon as able to give you details. Thanks for your letter & help. All the best to you & Esther, yours Lucia.

OFFICIAL COLONIAL WILLIAMSBURG CARD
Sept 4, 1954 P.S. I have sent 3 bags
c/o yourself at the Dept.

Dr. J. Lederberg
Dept of Genetics
The University,
Madison 6, Wis.

(U. S. A.)

Ektachrome by Thos. L. Williams - Miro-Krome by H.S. Crockett Co. Inc.